

THE UNIVERSITY FOREIGN LANGUAGE
CERTIFICATION SYSTEM

UNICERT® is a system for training, examination and certification in academic foreign language teaching. It enables its accredited members to provide essential quality standards in language training and testing and to take part in a certification system valid across all languages and academic institutions.

Students and graduates are given an advantage on the national and international labour market as a result of a practically useful and demanding all-round foreign language training programme that prepares for study, periods of practical training and jobs at home and abroad. UNICERT® graduates can be sure of completing an evaluated language training programme compatible with those of other institutions.

Universities and colleges receive assistance in providing quality and future-oriented foreign language teaching.

Industry and business benefit from graduates who have completed a thorough, demanding, and practice-oriented foreign language training programme, and who are able to meet the language demands on the international market.

With more than 50 member institutions UNICERT® has become Germany's major accreditation agency for foreign language programmes at institutions of higher education. The increasing number of accreditations in other European countries underlines UNICERT®'s standing as a widely recognized university foreign language certification system.

Arbeitsstelle UNICERT® Dresden
c/o Institut für Anglistik/Amerikanistik
Technische Universität Dresden
01062 Dresden

- Phone/Fax: +49 351 46335562
- e-mail: mail@unicert-online.org
- Website: www.unicert-online.org